AIM OF THE PROGRAM :

The goal of modern esthetic rehabilitation is to design and create a smile according to a recognized smile design approach using appropriate minimal or non invasive bonded ceramic or composite restorations.

BUT... what happens when the beautiful aesthetic results that are created are short lived? WHAT IF...the veneer restorations start breaking? WHAT would the dentist need to do to avoid unfortunate situations like this? WHAT aspects of function are important and what esthetic and functional goals of treatment need to be fulfilled for the bonded restorations to stay predictably long term?

The aim of this clinically oriented hands on seminar is to familiarize the participant with the main practical aspects of dealing with occlusion and function in everyday clinical practice and with a protocol of treatment that will allow the participants to gain predictably long term successful results in their conventional and esthetic rehabilitations.
